PRIMULA POLYANTHUS

Our plant selection has aimed at attaining polyanthus stock with good stem, Clear strong color and well massed bloom cluster of firm substance as well as generous size.

Plants here listed are of 1 year size.

- Baby Love (Maupin) Each: .75
A good border plant of deep pink with long bloom period.
- Blue Boy (M.B.S.) Each: .75
Large flower of velvety royal blue. Very early and free flowering.
- Creole Belle (Maupin) Each: .75
Bright, deep pink, much like its parent, Apple Blossom, but more dependable and the bloom is larger.
- Flambo Each: .75
A handsome plant with large, fiery red bloom of unusual form on a splendid stem.
- Gentlemen's Preference (red) Each: .50
From the best English seed we have re-selected the reds to form this group. They are gorgeous and score high on all points.
- Mary Dunn (M.B.S.) Each: .50
This old blue has fine characteristics that set it apart. Its almost round eye of palest cream; sturdiness of stem and leaf and slow development allows an old plant to retain all its first beauty.
- Number 23 (Maupin) Each: 1.00
Red of a rich shade not seen in any other primrose of our knowledge; a handsome, vigorous plant blooming throughout the season.
- Orange Glow Each: .75
Deep yellow with wide orange center. Free blooming, well ruffled, and richly fragrant
- Purple and Gold Each: .75
Royal purple with center of deep shade of Roman gold; large, ruffled flowers, a good cluster and stem.
- Rose Ash (Maupin) Each: 1.00
Deep pink, shining through overlay of purplish ashen "bloom". Each bloom stalk continues in bloom for weeks because of the great number of buds in each cluster, that open in succession.
- Snowdrift Each: .50
Large plant with huge umbel of snowy bloom on long stem.
- Summer Skies (M.B.S.) Each: 1.50
Blue, soft and clear and varying through successive shades as the bloom ages. A late bloomer of the best form and quality.
- Valentine Each: 1.00
Large flowers of clear bright rose--with no hint of purple. In full bloom by mid-February and continuing in flower throughout the season. A large, vigorous plant.
- Winter Sky (M.B.S.) Each: .75
Blue like its name--with more or less bloom all winter--and in earliest Spring each plant a mound of solid blue. Do not be impatient to divide, as it is most lovely after several years' growth.
- Wilson's Blue Each: .75
Light blue, very early, shade loving; and with woodsy background is something to dream about--calling for the companionship of Snowdrops, Aconite and Daphne.
- The Blue of Evening Each: 1.25
This distinctive and charming blue has a style all its own. The cluster of upright frilled leaves surrounds the firm slender flower stems which hold the bloom of soft blue with orange center well above the leaf tips.
- Golden Emblem Each: .50
Deep yellow, very late, of cushion form; has large bloom clusters of uniform size and height.

Dante Seedlings Each: .75
Richly dark, large and long stemmed, these are vigorous growers and furnish weight and accent to the Primrose pageant; allowing more generous use of the lovely gold, Apricot, white and cream plants that supply "sunshine" values to mixed plantings.

Purple King Seedlings Each: .75
These vary in color thru delicate orchid and lavender to rich burgundy and true Royal Purple. The infusion of these rare shades gives rich emphasis to color photography.

Flying Colors Mixture Dozen: 2.00
A "crazy quilt" mix in which almost any color may be found.

Primroses by Color

In each lot of seedlings there are many plants showing flowers of gorgeous color variations. Below are listed some of them in "color trend" groups;

Sunset Group 1 Plant .50 6 All different: 2.75
Orange and red or terra cotta, brick and yellow blends, copper rose on gold, bronze-red and "biscuit" on yellow.

Pastel Group 1 Plant .50 6 All different: 2.75
Showing delicate tones of creamy buff to fawn; apricot and ivory, dusty pink on gold, orchid on cream, old rose and lavender--to give an idea of the elusive color blends.

Pink Angel Group Each: .50
To the original Pink Angel strain we have added other equally good pink seedlings to form this group.

Yellow Giants 1 Plant .35 6 for $2.00
Composed of numerous fine large-flowered yellows of all shades.

Polyanthus Special Each: .50
Vigorous 2 year plants; gorgeous colors.

Primula Acaulis

In this class each flower has its own individual stem; free blooming generally, large of bloom and early. These characteristics make them ideal for use in a close set border--perhaps with early bulbs.

Bluet (M.B.S.) Each: 1.00
Soft, clear blue, with good stem. Free blooming, in a shy, modest way, that is reminiscent of some exquisite wildling, making it at home with Hepaticas, Trilliums and Erythroniums.

Smiles Each: .50
Plant of beautiful form with bloom of true primrose yellow. Early and free blooming and identified by English visitors as a form of the true English Primrose.

White Ruffles Each: .50
Very free flowering, well ruffled, pure white, large, and blooms through long period.

Laurie Each: .75
Brightest colored of the very early Primroses. It is intensely pink, with a hint of bright blue blended; is extremely free flowering, and long stemmed; medium size.

Double Flowered Acaulis

Double Lavender (So called) Each: .50
This is PINK, delicate and lovely on our upland soil. If it is desired to bring out lavender coloring, plant in heavy soil in shade

Double Yellow Each: 1.25
Also called "double sulphur" and probably a double of the English Primrose. It has been grown on Puget Sound shores nearly seventy years.

Primula Juliae and Hybrids

Juliae - Species Each: .50
Very small; creeping to form mats, and happy among small rocks. Color rosy wine with gold eye.

Hybrids

Dorothy Each: 1.00
Very small, of Polyanthus type. Color pale Primrose.

- Garden Delight (English Importation) Each: 1.50
A well named hybrid, of conservative creeping habit, with well placed, numerous flowers of vivid golden pink that "dim out" all its neighbors and continue from earliest Spring until mid-summer and appear again in Autumn, lovely as ever, paying well for the careful growing it requires.
- Incognita Each: 1.00
This imported beauty is perhaps an amnesia victim, since she came to us nameless; but so lovely a plant with such a wealth of exquisite shell pink bloom, will get along on her looks.
- Jacquiminot (Maupin) Each: .75
Desirable owing to extremely early and profuse quantity of bloom, of the same color as the old "Jack" rose. It conforms to the desired hybrid type.
- La Loupe Each: .75
A new vigorous hybrid that will be useful and effective as a compact free blooming border subject. It is rich, warm, deep red--showing no purple.
- Little Gem (English) Each: .75
A small but vigorous hybrid with many well placed blooms, of Polyanthus type, in clear, warm, deep red. All desired characteristics seem to unite in this small treasure.
- Lodge Each: .50
Usually called "Primrose Lodge," is one of the oldest of these hybrids and good in every point--a sturdy small creeper of deepest shade of wine, with never any purple; literally a mass of color through its long bloom period.
- Pam Each: .50
Noticeable for the rich bronze shades that light its leafage. Large flowers of purplish wine.
- Rae Each: .50
A robust large-leaved plant with large flowers of majenta shade. Fine for the "Primrose path" border.
- Snow Baby (Mappin) Each: 1.50
From the close packed group of crinkly bluegreen leaves springs the 5 to 6" Polyanthus type of stalk with cluster of large PURE WHITE, imbricated bloom--always bringing to mind a cluster of Cortusoides.
- Springtime (Borsch) Each: .75
A good sized bloom of wild rose pink. As with all the pink hybrids, the color is constant--not deepening to rose as some of the pink Polyanthus Prims do.
- Wanda Each: .35
The most brilliant in its crimson coloring of the Juliaes grown by us. A situation having full sun through Spring seems best for it.
- Polyanthus Seed, Mixed, Pkt. of 300 1.00
from selected plants.
- Auricula Seed - mixed (from selected plants only) Pkt. 1.00
- Below we list seeds of a few rare bulbs which can be increased only by the use of seed, as they develop no bulb offsets. Plant in fall.
- Winter Aconite Pkt. .50
Camas - white or blue .50
Hyacinthus Azureus .50
Hyacinthus Amethystinus .50
Special - Colchicum 202. 1.25
- Agrippina: A rare species. The flowers are slender cups of rich rose color; leaves are slender dark emerald, with wavy edges.
- Viola Sylvestris Rosea (pink wood violet) is a delightful tho' little known rock and border plant for Spring flowering. Plants will be sent, with Primrose order, at 1 plant 25¢ - 6 for 1.25

Prices as given replace all previous quotations, and include postage and packing; cash with order, please, plus 3% for sales tax from Washington buyers.

Three plants as priced at 35¢ will be sent for 1.00. If order amounts to less than $1.00 add 5¢ per plant.
